

Adam Simms to Present at National Business Institute's Advanced Employment Law Course October 1-2, 2018

Adam Simms will present "Retaliation Claim Legal Strategies: Defenses, Counter-Suits and More," at the National Business Institute's Advanced Employment Law course.

DATE: October 1-2, 2018

LOCATION: Peabody, MA

REGISTRATION: National Business Institute's Advanced Employment Law

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: Handle Employment Law Difficulties with Confidence

Rapid employment law legislative and case law evolution has created complex legal questions for employers and employees alike. Merely keeping up with the increasing number of changes can be challenging for the most experienced of practitioners, not to mention practically applying them to demanding situations that may walk through the door at any moment. Attend this comprehensive, two-day seminar and obtain the valuable information you need to navigate the rapidly changing employment law landscape. No matter which side of the aisle you represent, you are sure to take away tips and techniques for handling advanced-level issues - register today! Click here to learn more about the program.