

Representing Cities and Towns Across Massachusetts

From Abington to Yarmouth, Pierce Davis & Perritano has defended cities, towns, counties, school districts and other governmental entities across Massachusetts.

Massachusetts Cities and Towns Represented by PDP

Our familiarity with local government and with the numerous procedural and substantive defenses available to our clients — both statutory and common law — enables us to protect municipalities, local governments (including boards, committees and departments), public utilities, and schools against the myriad lawsuits and administrative proceedings currently facing them in the public sector.

Learn more about our Governmental, Municipal and School Liability experience and attorneys.